Bio

Larry White, CPP – American Payroll Association

Larry White, CPP is a Director of Payroll Training for the American Payroll Association. His responsibilities include the presentation, development and review of APA training courses.

Involved in the payroll industry for over 35 years as a practitioner, manager, director and trainer, Larry has experience in the manufacturing and transportation industries and has also been a self-employed small business owner. He has been a member of the American Payroll Association since 1989 and served several terms as President of the APA's Northeastern Oklahoma Chapter, of which he is a founding member. In 2001, he was named Oklahoma Payroll Professional of the Year.

On the national level, Larry is a contributing writer to PAYTECH and has served on the ACH Committee, the APA President's Board of Advisors and the Certification Board. He served for seven years as an instructor for the Payroll Professional Learning Series at Tulsa Community College. He received APA's Meritorious Service Award in 1998 and was named APA's Payroll Man of the Year in 2005.

Larry creates a weekly comic strip for a local newspaper. He also produces cartoon panels for the APA's Guide to Successful Electronic Payments and is the creator of PAYTOONS, a comic panel in APA's PAYTECH magazine. He holds a degree in Communications from the University of Tulsa.
